Legends of Broken Bow High School

Superman

So, why does Mr. Hanks have a Superman logo on his page? This is another Broken Bow High School Legend. Mr. Hanks started out his career with Broken Bow Schools as a science teacher. Rumor has it that he knows enough about science to be Dr. Evil, but he only uses his knowledge for good. After 5 years of teaching, Mr. Hanks became our Principal of Discipline. Usually, this would mean that he would only be seen in times of trouble. However, BBHS’s Mr. Hanks is like Superman, always there even before someone says, "This looks like a job for Mr. Hanks!" He has a strong moral code and doles out discipline with respect for the rules and each student. As far as we know, he doesn’t have a Kryptonite.
