A-ASSISTANT

I would be J-Lo's assistant. I would be her assistant because i think she's freaking cool and I think that she could teach me a lot about the entertainment business. I think that if I was her assistant I would get to see other celebrities and I would be able to go to all the cool parties.

B-BOTHER

What bothers me the most are liars. I HATE when people lie all the time. I HATE when people feel the need to tell a lie - which usually gets them into more trouble - than if they just actually told the truth. I think that people should always tell the truth - especially loved one and people who say they are your friends.
